Brownfield Lady Cub Daniella Llanas narrowly slides safely into home plate against Denver City's catcher. The Lady Cubs are 1-1 in district following their victory Tuesday over the Lady Mustangs.

Lady Cubs 'run-rule' Lady Mustangs

You can't win a game in two innings, the Lady Cubs learned Tuesday.

But fortunately, you also get more than three chances.

Brownfield's softball squad earned a 20-9 comeback home win over Denver City Tuesday, their first-ever via a 10-run-lead mercy rule that calls off games two innings early. The game - which also put them 1-1 in district - contained an 8-0 second-inning lead followed by a nine-run streak from the visiting Lady Mustangs and then a third-inning big comeback by the home team.

The Lady Cubs landed five runs in the first inning and three more in the second, while the Lady Mustangs remained scoreless. But at the top of the third and with two outs already on the scoreboard, Denver City had four good hits and Brownfield several dropped catches. In the space of a few frustrating minutes, their big lead was turned around to an 8-9 deficit.

In the third inning, though, freshman Bryanna Cruz had an over-the-fence hit that didn't just send herself and a first-base runner all the way home, but pumped the whole team's spirits back up. With more hits and stolen bases by Melissa Davis, Dallas Bruns, Kaley Kevil, Cassie Avalos and Marie Rodriguez, they were up 15-9 at the end of the inning.

They didn't score in the fourth, but pitcher Marie Rodriguez quickly struck out three Lady Mustangs to ensure Denver City didn't either.

They secured the early victory in the fifth inning with five hits, three walks and three stolen bases.

The Lady Cubs took a break in district play Thursday night to earn a 9-3 home win over the Lubbock Titans, then hosted their annual alumni game. Round 3 of district is set for Tuesday with a trip to Lamesa.
